

Seminar on work methods with the disadvantaged young people

CO-HABITER participated in the seminar entitled " Innovative Working methods with the discriminated young people ", which took place from September 27th to October 1st, 2011 in Cracow, Poland.

This seminar gathered participants from several European countries. It allowed participating organizations to focus on the appropriate working strategies for the young people in unfavourable situation. Methods at the theoretical as well as practical levels were highlighted.

During the exchanges, the participants discussed various rich themes, such as inclusive work in practice, social rehabilitation system in the European countries, role of the public institutions and the non-governmental organizations, work with aggressive young people and/or dependant individuals (drug, alcohol etc.), among others.

Our participation to this meeting was very productive and really contributed to its success.
